Introduction

ILLUSTRATION — ROSE MEDITATION LEVEL 3

An elevated, radiant figure seated in meditation, surrounded by golden roses and subtle light — representing the advanced practitioner entering deeper levels of awareness and energetic mastery.

Ref: Level 3 Introduction

Rose Meditation is a tool for cleansing the aura and the seven main chakras, providing protection and energy balance. Through this technique it is possible to release blocked energies, energies that are not ours, become aware of our life force and deprogram patterns that prevent direct contact with our essence.

Roses represent the Spirit. Roses absorb all the energies, emotions and situations that don't belong to you or that no longer serve your present moment. We can create and explode them as many times as necessary.

The 5 Bodies & 5 Levels of Existence

ILLUSTRATION — THE 5 BODIES

A figure shown with five concentric layers radiating outward — Physical (innermost), Emotional, Mental, Energetic, and Spiritual (outermost) — each layer progressively more subtle and luminous, illustrating how everything originates from the spiritual level and densifies into matter.

Ref: The 5 Bodies & 5 Levels of Existence

Everything that manifests itself in matter has an origin on a spiritual level. Everything is also energy. The denser the energy, the more it moves towards manifestation and thus comes into existence in a way that we can perceive objectively.

1. Spiritual

On the spiritual level, everything is perfect and complete. Here there is no suffering or adversity. It is the field of learning, where the existence of each event, relationship or being is determined. There is no value judgment here. There is no right or wrong, good or bad. It simply is. It's where we can find answers to what may seem unfair or cruel from our limited perspective.

2. Energetic

This is the field of the subtle, of potential, of vibration. It's where our Aura is formed and where we work in Rose Meditation. This is where everything that will one day manifest in matter can already be felt, but where there is also much more. It's where non-incarnate energies or entities act. When we have deep and meaningful relationships, it is in the energetic body that we form cords that bind us and through which we continue to feel the other beyond time and space.

3. Mental

When the subtle energies densify, the first place we perceive them is in the world of ideas, thoughts, programs and beliefs. The ideas we have about the world and every element in it are stored in our mental body. Here we confront the reality perceived by the senses with the programs that — within us — dictate how the world should be.

4. Emotional

This is where everything we feel stays. We have an emotional body where the marks of the feelings that have passed through us, but which we haven't been able to release, remain. Here is the burden left by the traumas we have experienced throughout our lives. The emotional body connects with the physical body mainly through the organs, which change their functioning depending on the emotions we are feeling.

5. Physical

Everything we experience in matter, with our body. It's the world we perceive through our five senses: what we see, hear, touch, smell and taste. The physical plane is the only one that is perceived in the same way (objectively) by everyone. That's why it's the reference and where we can turn to investigate and check what's happening on all the other planes.

Cleansing Techniques

Breaking Spiritual Agreements

ILLUSTRATION — BREAKING AGREEMENTS

A person in meditation visualizing a stick (representing the spiritual agreement) being broken into three pieces. The three pieces are placed into a grounded rose, which is then exploded outside the aura — releasing the agreement.

Ref: Breaking Spiritual Agreements

Any relationship can only exist in matter if there has been a spiritual agreement to support that relationship. These agreements can only be created with the consent of both parts on the spiritual level and can be broken by either part through their conscious will.

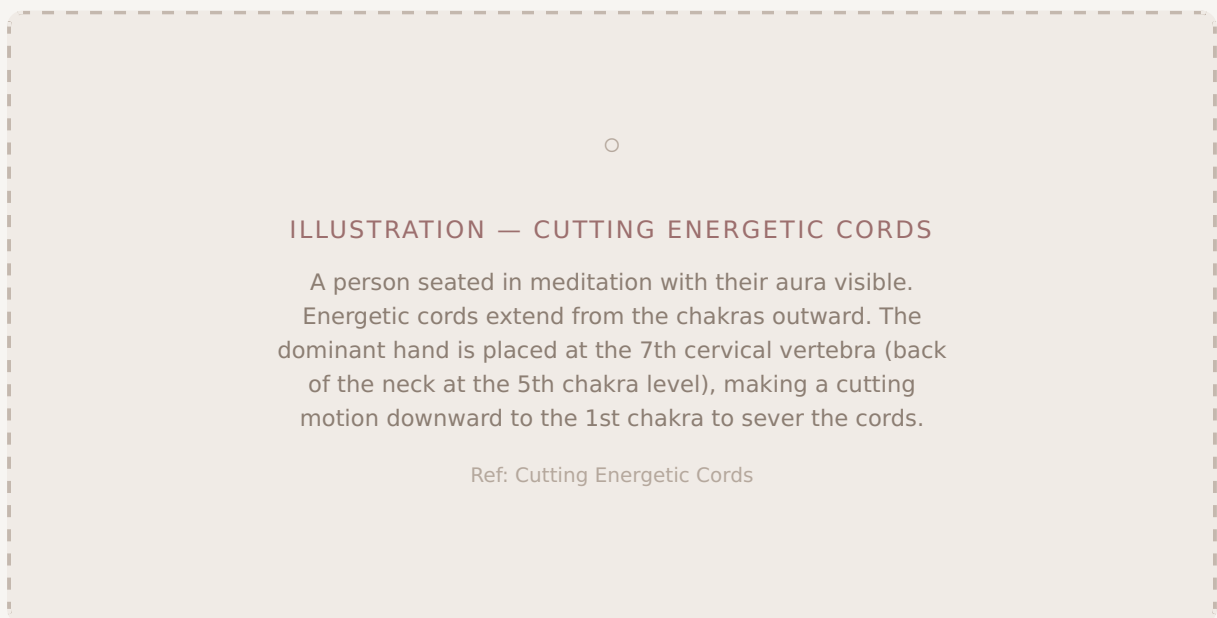

Sometimes these agreements are in line with our conscious will, for example when two people get married. At other times, they resonate with unconscious desires — this is when things happen that we don't want. However, using this Rose Meditation technique, we can always break these agreement sticks.

This should always be done with great awareness, as it has very real consequences for our lives.

TO BREAK AGREEMENTS

- Create a high-vibration situation, for example, right after the Rose Meditation.
- View the agreements stick that contains all the agreements you want to break.
- Break the stick into three pieces.
- Create a grounded Rose.
- Place the three pieces of stick in the Rose.
- Explode the Rose out of the Aura.

Cutting Energetic Cords

We have energetic interactions with people all the time we see them, hear them, touch them and even think about them. And when we form bonds, our auras connect through the cords where energy passes through. That's why we can often feel what's happening with people who are close to us, even if they're far away.

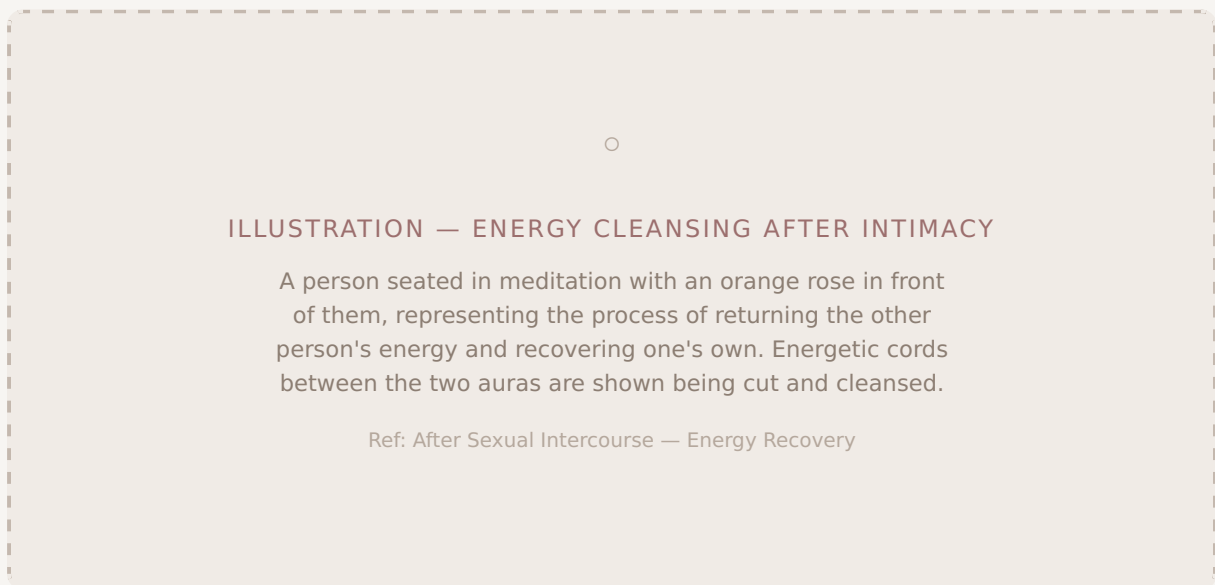

TO CUT CORDS

- Close your eyes.
- Visualize your Aura with cords coming out of your chakras.
- Place your dominant hand on the 7th cervical vertebra, which is at the junction of the neck and back, at the level of the 5th chakra.

- Intend that your hand has the power to cut all the cords.
- Make the movement of cutting the cords up to under your 1st chakra, leaning your hand on the chair where you are sitting.

We can also cut cords when the relationship hasn't ended, but we feel we need more neutrality. These bonds form again very quickly when we reconnect with the person.

After Sexual Intercourse

After a sexual intercourse, if you want to recover your energy that may have remained with the person and return the energy of the person who may have remained with you:

- Do the preparation techniques (grounding cord, Golden Sun, energy of the Earth and the Cosmos, sacred space).
- Create an orange Rose and place the person's energy in the Rose (you can visualize the person entering the Rose, the situation, emotions and feelings that may appear at that moment); explode.
- Create an unrooted orange Rose that cleanses the person's energy that may have remained in any layer of their Aura; explode.
- Create a grounded orange Rose and intend for this Rose to recover all your energy that was left with this person; explode.
- If you want to remain energetically separated, cut the energetic cords.

- Create an unrooted pink Rose, place the person on it, visualize the person happy and in complete health. Repeat mentally: "Happy, healthy, complete, body, mind, Spirit." Bring the Rose up towards the center of the Universe.
- Renew your grounding cord.
- Fill yourself with the light of the Golden Sun.
- Place your hands on the floor to discharge excess energy.

Classes & Consultations

ILLUSTRATION — CLASSES & CONSULTATIONS

A teacher or practitioner seated across from a student or client, both within their own auras. The practitioner's aura is shown with roses of protection, separation and observation. Energetic cords connect the two auras, illustrating the bonds that form during a session and need to be cleansed afterward.

Ref: Classes & Consultations — Energy Separation

When you are working in any field — or when you are a teacher or lecturer — you can use Rose Meditation to maintain your energy integrity.

Before

Do all the preparation techniques for the Rose Meditation (grounding cord, Golden Sun, energy of the Earth and the Cosmos, sacred space) and cleanse and protect the physical space where the service or class will take place.

After

After saying goodbye to the person you have assisted or the students, take a few moments to reorganize the energies and do the energy separation techniques, because during a class or service many emotional, energetic and spiritual bonds can be formed:

- Create a new grounding cord.

- Explode the Roses of separation, protection and observation and create new ones.
- Create a grounded Rose in front of you, call your own energy into the Rose and explode the Rose — this recovers your energy that may have remained in the person(s)' Aura.
- Create a Rose, place the person you have assisted or the students inside the Rose and explode the Rose. This way you return energies that may have remained in your aura.
- Cut the cords that bind your Aura to the other person's Aura.
- In the case of closing contracts, when you no longer have plans to serve the person: break spiritual agreements.
- Create an unrooted pink Rose, place the person(s) on this Rose, visualize the person(s) happy and in complete health. Repeat mentally: "Happy, healthy, complete, body, mind, Spirit." Raise the Rose towards the center of the Universe.
- Do the Golden Sticky Rose cleansing meditation (or the full meditation if necessary).
- Explode the 4 roses in the corners of the room.
- Cut the grounding cord and create a new one.
- Fill yourself with the light of the Golden Sun.
- Eliminate excess energy by placing your hands on the floor.

The Analyzer

ILLUSTRATION — THE ANALYZER

A person in meditation with a transparent view of the head, showing the Analyzer as an energetic structure inside the head. A colored rose (matching the chakra being cleansed) is grounded behind the person outside the aura at the height of the Analyzer. A golden sticky rose spirals through the Analyzer, cleansing hidden energies.

Ref: Slide 30 — The Analyzer

The Analyzer is located inside the head. Its functions are to analyze, judge and criticize. It stores our programs and beliefs. Cleansing the Analyzer and the energies that are stored there allows you to free yourself from limitations that impact your life and also helps you to perceive life in a more objective way.

The cleansing of the Analyzer is done on all the chakra colors. Here is the description for the color red:

- See the Analyzer in red.
- Ground the Analyzer to the center of the Earth with a red cord.
- Create a red Rose grounded behind you outside your Aura at the height of the Analyzer.
- The Rose now cleanses the Analyzer in this vibration.
- The Rose comes down through the grounding cord.
- Create a Golden Sticky Rose the size of the Analyzer.

- It enters the Analyzer and spirals inside and out, cleansing away any hidden energy that may have remained there.
- Now see the Analyzer in gold, raising its vibration.
- Now close the Analyzer completely.
- Explode the Rose always outside the Aura.

This same procedure should be done with the vibration of all the chakras (orange, yellow, green, pink, sky blue, indigo blue and violet).

When closing the Analyzer you may feel your intuition working more strongly and your rational side may be limited. If you need to use your rational faculties, just intend it and the Analyzer will open again.

Creating Reality

Impeccability

ILLUSTRATION — IMPECCABILITY & CHAKRA ALIGNMENT

A figure shown with all seven chakras aligned and radiating in the same direction. Labels connect each chakra to its function in creating reality: Intention (7th), Thinking (6th), Word (5th), Feeling (2nd & 4th), and Action (1st & 3rd) — illustrating the principle of energetic coherence.

Ref: Creating Reality — Impeccability

We humans are complex beings endowed with the ability to create worlds within ourselves through our imagination, our mind. This allows us to create complex worlds outside ourselves too. The reality we live in today is the fruit of what we have planted in the past, whether in this life or in previous lives. If we want to transform the reality around us, we must pay attention to how we are living and begin a process of transformation from inside out.

We often experience unwanted realities, but we don't know why we can't manifest what we really want. This is because different parts of us are trying to move in different directions at the same time using the same body. This is not possible and causes stagnation. The science of creating reality involves learning to be impeccable with ourselves, putting our energy and our chakras all in the same direction.

Intention — want / ask / pray — connected to the 7th chakra

Thinking — I think / imagine / see — connected to the 6th chakra

Word — I say / talk / ponder — linked to the 5th chakra

Feeling — feel / digest / alchemize — connected to the 2nd and 4th chakras

Action — act / do / renounce — connected to the 1st and 3rd chakras

Mock-Up

ILLUSTRATION — MOCK-UP TECHNIQUE

Three grounded roses side by side: the first (center) contains a vivid image of what is being manifested; the second (right) is a cleansing rose removing blockages; the third (left, pink) holds the image of something deeply loved, radiating the vibration of Divine Love. Pink energy flows from the heart, enveloping the first rose in a pink bubble before it is released upward to the center of the Universe.

Ref: Mock-Up — Creating Reality

This is a technique for manifesting things or situations on the physical plane. It is important to note that this technique should only be used for yourself — it cannot be done for someone else. It must be done 7 days in a row to be effective and it must be done for one goal at a time. The higher your vibration when you do the Mock-up, the more effective it will be. A good time to do it is just after finishing Rose Meditation.

1. Create a grounded Rose and inside that Rose imagine what you want, creating the image with as much detail as you can.
2. Create a second grounded Rose which should be placed on the right side of the first Rose. We intend this Rose to clear any energy that doesn't belong to the first Rose, any kind of blockage that interferes with achieving what you want. Don't focus on what is being cleansed, simply place the intention to cleanse.

3. Create a third pink grounded Rose (the color of Divine Love). Into the interior of this Rose you bring the image of something you love very much, something that gives you a lot of satisfaction and pleasure so that you can raise your vibration to the maximum, to the vibration of Love.
4. Inspired by the previous Rose, now imagine the energy of Divine Love coming out of your heart, in pink, and enveloping the whole of the first Rose, placing it in a beautiful pink circle, like a bubble.
5. Cut the roots of the first Rose and let it go up to the center of the Universe. Always ask for it to come true if it is for the Supreme Good.
6. Explode the third Rose (the pink one).
7. Explode the second Rose (the cleansing rose).

Remember to repeat this technique for 7 consecutive days. If you don't do it one day before completing the 7-day cycle, go back to the beginning. Once you've completed the mock-up, live your life trying to align yourself on all levels, handing over the fulfillment of your desires to the Supreme Being and open to receiving in whatever way the Great Mystery allows.

Elements of Rose Meditation — Level 3 Daily

- Grounding cord
- Golden Sun
- Aura boundaries and cord expansion
- Roses of protection, separation and observation
- Energies of the Earth and Cosmos
- Cleansing Rose
- Energy Recovery Rose
- Sacred space
- Space protection
- Unrooted roses that cleanse the layers of the Aura
- Grounded Roses that cleanse the front and back of the chakras
- Golden Sticky Roses
- Cleansing the Analyzer

Other Elements of Level 3

- Breaking spiritual agreements
- Cutting the energetic cords
- Cleansing the energy of sexual partners
- Preparation and cleansing for classes and appointments
- Mock-up

To End the Meditation

- Cord + Golden Sun + discharge excess energy
